

American Health Technology Group (AHTG) and American Healthcare Staffing Association (AHSA) to Provide Staffing Support for CommonSpirit Health

Edmond, Okla. (June 16, 2020) - American Health Technology Group (AHTG), a next-generation healthcare workforce technology provider, and American Healthcare Staffing Association (AHSA), a pioneer and leader in healthcare workforce solutions, will provide staffing support and other services to CommonSpirit Health, the largest nonprofit Catholic health systems in the United States. AHTG and AHSA are part of the American Health Staffing Group (AHTG) suite of companies.

The Trio VMS+ solution will provide vendor management system (VMS) software from AHTG and management and consulting services from AHSA to support CommonSpirit as it builds an internal locum program management office for the health system, providing cost savings and effective oversight of all locum tenens use.

“The AHTG team is thrilled that Trio VMS+ was selected as CommonSpirit’s VMS platform. This further demonstrates that with Trio, we hit the mark in our unwavering commitment to addressing and managing the nuances of healthcare contract labor,” Mark Smith, CEO at AHTG said. “In addition, AHSA is excited to consult and provide support as CommonSpirit ramps up its own program management office. Trio VMS+ is our latest solution that leverages AHSA’s 17 years of MSP expertise as well as Trio’s best-in-class functionality all while providing clients what they have been asking for – a path to controlling their overall contract labor program.”

Trio VMS+ is easily scalable and provides increased efficiencies with full transparency, all while driving cost-savings. Trio VMS+ was developed specifically to provide healthcare contract labor users with a solution that bridges the gap between VMS and MSP. Trio VMS+ offers the opportunity for our clients to effectively manage all labor categories and collaboratively create their own roadmap to controlling contract labor.

About American Health Technology Group

AHTG, an American Health Staffing Group company, specializes in next-generation workforce platforms and human capital consulting in the healthcare sector. AHTG brings a combination of technical innovation and deep expertise in healthcare recruiting and staffing to help healthcare organizations streamline the talent acquisition process, gain visibility and control of the vendor community, control costs, and optimize business outcomes. AHTG is an American Health Staffing Group company. American Health Staffing Group is a portfolio company of BelHealth Investment Partners.

About AHSA:

Founded in 2003, AHSA provides healthcare workforce solutions to streamline and simplify the way healthcare organizations procure and manage supplemental staffing. As a pioneer in the healthcare Managed Service Provider and VMS industry, AHSA was the first MSP to provide a VMS solution for physician staffing, in addition to nursing, allied health and non-clinical workforce solutions to its client facilities. AHSA is an American Health Staffing Group company. American Health Staffing Group is a portfolio company of BelHealth Investment Partners.

